with us, she will soon find one, and we ought therefore to be prepared for her at all points, not only by rapidly increasing the number and power of our ships-of-war, but by a thorough fortification of our seaports.

THE JEFFERDS TRIAL.-One of the most curious criminal trials which ever took place in our courts is the one now progressing before the Recorder-that of Jefferds for the murder of Mathews. It will be remembered that he was tried before for the murder of his stepfather (Walton), and was acquitted. He is now on trial for shooting Mr. Mathews who attempt ed to arrest the murderer of Mr. Walton.

The charge in this case, and indeed we may say the only important evidence produced, are based upon the alleged confessions of the prisoner made to a detective officer who was employed to decoy him and worm some admissions out of him. Without expressing any opinion as to the probable result of the trial, or the means by which the accused was brought into court we must say that in all its features this case presents much novelty and interest.

In the history of our criminal calendars there is another extraordinary case of violent death. which came to light only a few days ago-that of Mr. Levy, the broker; but the mystery which enwraps this affair precludes the possibility of pronouncing whether it was a case of murder or suicide. The deceased was alone in his office but a few minutes, and in that space of time his throat was cut by some one, and he was found lifeless on the floor. This occurred in broad daylight, in the midst of a populous neighborhood-in fact, in one of the most frequented thoroughfares in the city-and the boldness of the act, if indeed it was perpetrated by others than the deceased, is sufficient to alarm and appal. When we hear of so many bloody deeds of this kind occurring in open day, without interference from the police or others, many people are ant to consider them as something extraording Ty and without precedent elsewhere. For example, the murder of Burdell, killed in his own parlor in Bond street; the case of Corlies shot in the open street; that of Dr. Lutener' killed in his own office; the recent case of Levy, and the Walton and Mathews murder-But after all, in a vast city like this, it is not so wery extraordinary that such things should hap pen. Deeds as deadly and dark are done in all Marge cities, where the facilities for the commission of crime and the probabilities of escape are greater than in smaller places. Besides, we have here a more mixed population than any other city perhaps in the world, and we are exposed to all the vicissitudes of crime to which the various national vices, habits, and pas-·Sions of different races tend.

PROSPERITY AT THE NORTH-CONTRAST TO THE Socru.-While all our accounts from the rebel States represent the state of things there as most deplorable-trade ruined, food scarce, and suffering walking abroad-the cities of the North continue busy, active and prosper as. Ourfactories and foundries are alive with workmen' Our ship ands are busy in the service of the government. To walk Broadway any day no one would suppose that we were struggling with a great war, or that six hundred thousand men were in arms and at the seat of battle. We do not miss them from the throng.

But perhaps in no way is the prosperity of the North more manifested than in the number of buildings going up in all directions in this city and Brooklyn. This week the corner stone of a splendid new Court House, in the City Hall Park, will be laid with all the pomp and ceremony, Svents, and all around us we selving stores and fiwellings rearing their walls upward. In Brooklyn we believe that more new houseswhole blocks and handsome mansions-have been erected within the last six months than within the same period at any time for years past. Altogether the signs of prosperity in our atent, and we would venture to say, that, with the exception of the dry goods importers alone, nearly every one engaged in trade Is making money. This is a striking contrast to the position of the South, and it is a very plea-

MILITARY MOVEMENTS IN NEW YORK. THE FOURTH REGIMENT, NEW YORK

VOLUNTEERS.

Captain Braham, of this regiment, is now in this city, obtaining recruits. His office is in Grand street, near Obtaining Fourth regiment is one of the best disci-lled corps in the service, being officered almost exclu-sively by men who have seen service in Moxico. It is now guarding the railroad line between Porrymansyille and Baitimore.

Lieutenant William Moulton, who resigned his commission in the Fourth regiment last July, has been reinstated by Governor Slorgan, at the carnest solicitation of many of his friends. Lisutenant Moulton served in the New York Volunteers in Mexico, and while there won the esteem of his commanding offers for courage, industry and skill. He will join his regiment next wook.

THE MARCY RIFLES.

This regiment, we understand, is progressing rapid-by with its recruiting at the headquarters on Broadway. It would greatly facilitate the completion of the regiment, however, if quarters were assigned to them by the Governor. It is very well known that the organization of all regiments is more speedily accomplished when the men are placed in quarters.

NINETIETH REGIMENT, NEW YORK VOLUN-

This regiment, which is now encamped on Gover. nor's Island, will leave under sealed orders in a few days for some point on the Southern coast. The men are in many instances badly in want of under clothing and other necessary articles of confort and utility. Measrs, Tiffany & Co., of Broadway, will receive any communications relative to contribute us, which will be taken charge of by Mr. William Walker, the manager of the Union Barracks, Fast New York, who has been appointed their trustee and general beamess agent under the new allotment system.

THIRTY SEVENTH REGIMENT (IRISH RIFLES). Captain Jas R. O'Beirne is on here with authority from the War Department to accept recruits for this regiment, the War Department to accept recruits for this regiment, now commanded by Colonel S. B. Hagman, formerly mustering officer at this depot, and of Jong experience in the United States Army, having served in the Mexico. Florida and Utah campaigns with distinction. Capit. O'Bairne leaves to the for the interior on recruiting service, returning to this city in the course of the week, when he will take those who wish to join on at once to the east of war. This is a fine opportunity for these having friends in the Thirty seventh, and desirous of joining a fine Irish regiment, well drilled and disciplined. Application may be made at the rendezyous, corner of Kinth avenue and Thirty third streat, where Mr. George Hettrick will impart all information.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Dec. 22, 1861.

THE MASON-SLIDELL AFFAIR. The city has been excited to-day by a silly rumor that the government had agreed to surrender Mason and Slidell to Great Britain, and that they were to be given up on Tuesday next. There is not the slightest word o truth in the report. No such proposition has been en-tertained. In fact, the government has determined that the British complication shall be secondary to the suppression of the rebellion. That is the affair of most vital importance, and nothing in our foreign relations will be permitted to avert from it the attention of the govern-ment. Even the settlement of other affairs will be made subordinate to it.

with the Trent affair, have not yet been made known. It is certain, however, that they will be considered by this government with calm deliberation; and while the President and Cabinet will not, under any circumstances, submit to any compromise of our national honor, nor any sacrifice of public interest, they will not lightly or inconsiderately risk, upon trival points of diplomatic intercourse the opening of the blockade of Southern ports, and the recognition of the second States and delay in the suppres-sion of the robellion and the restoration of the integrity of the Union. Everything else is of miner importance, and will be made to yield to this first great object of the go-

Hereafter that route will be closely watched. It has been supposed by some that  $J,\,C$ . Breckingidge went by this route to Halifex; but that is a mistake. He took a

ALL QUIET.

There is nothing new to-night in the way of army intel ligence from any quarter. It is believed that battles were fought at Bowling Green and Somerset, Kentucky, yes terday, and advices from there are anxiously expected. None have yet been received. Affairs throughout the lines of our army of the Potomac are reported by the military telegraph quiet to-day. The bright weather that has prevailed for several weeks is followed by a severa rein storm to night.

THE POTOMAC BLOCKADE - VESSELS ARRIVING AT ALEXANDRIA.

Two vessels, loaded with forage for the government, arrived at Alexandria Wednesday, and two to-day, having successfully run the blockade. These are the pioneers of others to arrive, under contract with Colonel Ingails dur ing his recent visit North.

REBEL INDIGNITIES.

The rebel authorities not only treated Mrs. Hicketts, who recently arrived here with her husband from Richmond, with indignity, but refused to return the carriage she took from Washington, in which to convey her wounded husband from the battle field at Bull Run, and of which she was robbed, or, to make compensation for her loss, they gave her permission to pass the lines from Richmond to Norfolk, but were not generous enough to provide for the payment of her passage. This she was obliged to do herself.

SECRETARY CHASE'S FINANCIAL SYSTEM. Much interest is excited by the circulation of a para blet, explanatory of Secretary Chase's system of fir the arrangement and details being to show that, by its adoption, not only would the strength of the Union be increased, but the country rendered entirely independent MEETING OF UNITED STATES STRAMBOAT COMMI

SIGNERS.

The Board of Steamboat Commissioners is now in sec ion here. Under the act of 1852, for the better security of the lives of passengers in steam vessels, nine supervis-ing inspectors and lifty local inspectors were appointed. The supervisors have met each year at some convenient point, and their report was embraced in the report of the Secretary of the Treasury. This year they were directed by the Secretary to meet in Washington, and they assembled here last Monday in expectation of reelving a communication from the Treasury Department but none has been yet presented. In the meantime the Board have held consultations and compared notes, from which it appears that an immense falling off in the busiand Ohio rivers the steamboat business is almost annihilated. The Ohio river boats have been cleaned out, salted, painted and laid on an even keel, prepared for inactivity any length of time. South of Baltimore in the East and of St. Louis in the West there is no occupation for United States steamboat inspectors. The four boats on the Boston and Fastport and St. John route have been purchased by government. The Commissioners find themselves unable to make a co parative table of steamboat explosions in consequence of the revolution in business caused by the rebellion. the imperfect data in their possession it appears, how ever, that there has been a marked diminution of such assualties since the Act of Congress was carried into effect. The Poard divides itself by districts and is composed as ollows:-First district, New England- - Burnett, of Boston; Second district, New York -- Stillman, of New York; Third district, Baltimore - Muller: Fourth district, Pacific— Witzig, of St. Louis; Fifth district, Upper Mississippi—— Stevenson, of Galena; Sixth district-Captain Shalcross, of Louisville; Seventh district-- Shields, of Cincinnati; Eighth district, Western Up. per Lakes — Guthrie, of Chicago; Ninth district, Lakes Eric, Ontario and Champlain—Captain Walker, of Buffaic. All except three, Messrs. Burnett, Shalcross and Walker, are new appointments to the Board. ONEROUS DUTIES OF THE PROVOST MARSHAL IN

GRANTING PASSES. GRANTING PASSES.

Few persons have any conception of the vast amount of business devolved upon the Provest Marshal in reference to granting passes within the lines of the army of the Potomac. Two officers and six or eight clerks are kept constantly employed in this department. The thou sands of applicants for passes are courteously received and all who apply in good faith for the purpose of visiting relatives in the army, or of attending to lawful business, are promptly provided with them ; but notwithstanding the dissatisfaction sometimes given, and the unreasonable adignation occasionally manifested, Cen. Porter has been obliged to refuse inexorably to grant passes for the simple gratification of curiosity. Simple sightseers may as well take notice that no curiosity passes will be issued.

THE ABOLISHMENT OF SUTLERSHIPS. The efforts being made to abolish sutlerships in the army are bringing to light many abuses not before dreamed of. In some instances the appointment of sutler has been given to whoever would agree to contribute the largest bonus to the regimental fund, which is under the control of the regimental officers. Out of it is paid a portion of the expenses of the band; the remainder is disposed of by the officers, who also appoint the sut Complaints have been made that this course results in injury to the interests of both sutlers and soldiers, who are, in many cases, thus indirectly toxed to pay for wines liquors and segars for the regimental mess.

GEN. LANDER CONVALESCING. Gen. Lander is slowly recovering from his wound. He was able to drive out to day with a friend, and determined to report himself to-morrow for duty, but this was peremptorily forbidden by the attending surgeon.

THE "BUCKTAIL" RIFLES.

The "Bucktail" Rifles, so prominently mentioned in connection with the battle of Drainesville, is the one lately commanded by Colonel Biddle. It is esteemed one of the most efficient in the service. It was with General McClellan in Western Virginia, was recruited in the mountains of Paunsylvania, and is composed of excellent marksmen.

CORRECTION. Owing to an error it becomes necessary to say that the recent report of the Select Committee on government contracts was approved of by Representative Penton, one of the committee, with the exception of that part which refers to the military department of the West.

IMPORTANT FROM MISSOURI.

Extensive Bridge Burning by the Rebels.

St. Charles, Mo., Dec. 21, 1861.

A preconcerted movement was made last night by the rebels along the North Missouri railroad. The rebels who returned from Gen. Price's army destroyed about 100 miles of the read, or at least rendered it useless. Com-mencing eight miles south of Hudson, they burned the bridges, wood piles, water tanks, ties, tore up the rails for miles, bent them, and destroyed the telegraph line. This was continued to Warrentown, where the work of destruction ceased. How many were concarned doubt but that it was a preconcerted and simultaneous party could have accomplished so much in one night gaged in the destruction of the bridge track at Warren

Major McKee, with one hundred and three men of Co enel Bishop's command, encountered and repulsed four handred rebels four miles north of Hudson, and killed ten and took seventeen prisoners and thirty horses. Five of our troops were slightly wounded. The rebels had at tacked a stock train, captured all the stock and held the railroad men as prisoners. They were in the act of unloading the stock, when the work, train and men were rescued by our troops.

SEDALIA, Dec. 22, 1861. Thirty-four cars loaded with prisoners, taken by General Pope, go to St. Louis to-night. The prisoners are n motiey crew, ranging from sixteen to seventy years of age. Many of the arms taken are United States muskets, d some of the men are dressed in United States uni forms, taken from our troops at Lexington. Several United States wagons were recaptured.
Ottewns, Mo., Pec. 22, 1861.

I learned yesterday that among the prisoners taken by Seneral Pope last Thursday, was the neterious Colonel Magollin, of Georgetown, Missouri. About two weeks ago Colonel Magoffin sent word to the commanding officer that his wife was dangerously ill, and begged to be per-mitted to see her ere she died. He was informed that if he would give his parol as a prisoner of war, his request would be granted. He did so and went home, and the next that was heard of him was that he commanded the whole force which defended the bridge that Colonel Davis carried by assault. He fled with his party, and was not taken till some time after the rest of the rebel force had surrendeced. In consequence of the darkness of the night he was not recognized until the next day. It seems that Colonel Magoffin, having visited his house and arranged his effects, sent a messenger recalling his parole, but instead of surrendering himself as officers usually do, he left, and before the messenger reached Sedatia was in the rebel army; and when the fight came on. feeling tha he deserved and would probably receive different trent ment from those who had not forfeited all right to be treated as prisoners of war, fought desperately, but un to be placed in confinement until Gen. Halleck decided what disposition to make of him. He is one of the most desperate and unscrapulous of the marauders in this section, and it is to be hoped that he will receive the pen ishment his crimes and forfeiture of his parole deserve

NEWS FROM CAIRO.

Careo, Dec. 20, 1861. Scouts from Kentucky report that a large contraban rade is carried on with the rebels from Illinois, via Cave in the Rock, on the Ohio river; also that rifled cannon have been placed on the Tennessee river, for the purpose of sinking the gunboat Conestega, which makes ecasional trips up the river.

THE SITUATION AT SOMERSET, KY.

THE SITUATION AT SOMERSET, KY.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette, Bec. 20.]

From a gentleman who left Somerset, Kentucky, yeaterday, we have reliable advices as to the situation at that place. Zolifesfier, with six thousand men, had thrown up fortifications this six thousand men, had thrown up fortifications this six thousand men about ten miles above the point at which he crossed, and six miles from Somerset. At the crossing place below there were two thousand rebels, on the south side, guarding the books. It took Zolifesfier four days to get his six thousand men across. The ferries are, therefore, not extensive; and in case of a fight and defeat, he could not recrease, with the foderal troops at his inells. Gen. Schoe of marched out of Somerset yeasterday morning, with three Otles and two Tennesses regiments, four companies of Hoskin spegment and a battery. The Thirty-eighth Ohio, with one battery remained in Somerset. It was the object of General Schoepfi to draw out Zolicoffer and fight him. He would not attack the fortification. If the entry refused to come out his camp would probably be healed from the opposite side of the river. This would be practicable. Our informant says the 2,000 men left below to guard the boats could not, owing to the mpassable character of the intervening ground, interfere with the crossing or working of our artiflery. If reinforcements should arrive from London. Zoliteoffer would be baged, General Schoepff whe companied of a single friend, position, gether 6,000 men and two batteries. One of the latter was deficient, the men not not being well drilled.

OUR NAVAL CORRESPONDENCE.

UNITED STATES STEAMER DELAWARE, OFF FORTENSE MONDON, Dec. 19, 1861. Course of the United States Steamer Delaware—Experience One of the Officers-Excellent Qualities of the Ba-Strength, Speed, de .- List of the Officers, de., de.

Some years ago, when attached as an officer to our hen little but now grand navy, I enjoyed the cognomen of "Special Correspondent to the New York Henaup" - a title that I was justly proud of; and having lately ac cepted a similar, though somewhat superior position. I have determined to write you a few lines.

Our vessel is a snug little craft of 240 tons, built at Wilmington, Del., of iron, and, before purchased by the government, was intended as a passenger boat for the Edenton and Blackwater Steamboat Company, to ply on their line on the Albemarle Sound, N. C. She is com' manded by a navy officer, and mounts five guns-four ion thirty-twos and one eighty pounder. Although a strongly thirty-twos and one oighty pounder. Although a strongly built vessel, since her purchase she has been strengthened to such an extent that nautical men consider her capable of encountering the roughest weather experienced on the stormy Atlantic. She has thus far proved herself to be not only a good sea heat but a fast one, having accomplished the distance from the Deliware Breakwater, in a rough sea, and with but fourteen pounds to the square inch, in less than seventeen hours; I believe some hundred and sixty miles it is computed to be. Such speed would overhauld, we are probably conceited enough to believe must fall a prize to the Starsand Stripes.

Being such an efficient vessel in every respect, we to doubt will be placed into active service immediately, and I hope et long to record a brightant engagement with the enemy, which I am confident you will take personne in publishing, and thus gladden the hearts of an Union loving chitzens and grathy your haif million reads a.

Below I give you a list of the officers attached to this vessel, and you will confer a favor by publishing the same.—Lieutenant Commanding, S.P. Quackenbush, Acting Massitant Surgeon, Lorenzo Traver; Assistant Paymester, Frederick R. Curtis; Acting Second and Chief Engineer, John Williamson; Acting Third Assistants, John Davis, A. Bunber and J. B. Brown; Acting Masters Mates, J. H. Stevens, J. H. Baymond and J. Hammond; Paym. ster's Clerk, Charles C. Hallowell; Surgeon's Stevard, Robert B. Bodson.

Fortunately we have for our commander an experienced navy officer and strict disciplinarian formerly built vessel, since her purchase she has been strengthened

B. Bodson.
Fortunately we have for our commander an experienced navy officer and strict disciplinarian, formerly executive officer of the United States frigate Congress; and although we have been in commission but one week, still our men, who were, I may say, perfectly green when ordered from the receiving ship to this vessel, are now quite proficient at the big guns, and only await an opportunity to be heard from.
